

Wyleless® Global M2M Managed Services

Open platform for a connected world™

INTRODUCING WYLESS

Wyleless is the leading global M2M managed services provider. Our resilient platform, delivered in partnership with the world's largest network operators, provides secure, reliable communications with wireless devices around the world.

Nearly eight years ago, we pioneered the development of a managed global wireless data network. Now, thanks to continuous investment in our worldwide infrastructure and our partnerships with Tier 1 mobile network operators (MNOs), we have expanded our global coverage to more than 120 countries.

OUR GLOBAL M2M PLATFORM

We have partnered with the world's largest private fiber network to deliver a hardened, ultra secure, redundant global backbone, with dedicated connections into each MNO. On top of this rock-solid foundation we have built our state-of-the-art, managed M2M network platform.

“Wyleless has been instrumental in the deployment and remote management of our leading parking solutions in cities like San Francisco, Los Angeles and Denver.”

– Chad Randall, COO, IPS Group

Thanks to our patented private fixed IP addressing technology, your wireless devices can communicate via their own secure virtual private networks (VPNs), eliminating the challenges of implementing and managing a complex network infrastructure from scratch. Instead, you are free to focus on your application, leaving the connectivity to the experts.

PORTHOS™ – TOTAL CONTROL

We have developed the industry's leading M2M management platform, Porthos™, which gives our customers and partners complete control over their M2M solutions. Its comprehensive feature set includes device and network management, provisioning, real-time reporting, billing, usage alerts and white labeling.

WYLESS – YOUR M2M PARTNER

Wyleless offers a truly uncompromising M2M solution. We deliver worldwide wireless connectivity, via the most secure and resilient network infrastructure. We provide an unrivalled management platform. We empower you with a comprehensive suite of professional services, our technical expertise and dedicated support.
